

eSource Study Build Services

Streamline Your Study with Advarra's eSource Study Build Service

Advarra's team of study build experts delivers high quality study builds and forms in Advarra eSource utilizing best practices in data capture and form design. By leveraging our standards-based approach and system expertise, your organization can get most out of your eSource system.

Why Utilize eSource Study Build Service?

Utilize data management professionals:

By partnering with our expert study build team, organizations benefit from a consistent, standards-based approach to their study design, including applying CDASH standards and other best practices for data capture

Free up internal resources:

Eliminate the need to hire and train an internal team on the very specific skillset needed for designing and building studies

Develop high quality electronic case report forms (eCRFs):

The study build team are experts in eSource functionality and will ensure organizations are utilizing the system's full capabilities

Rapid turnaround:

Standard processes provide fast reliable, turnaround times

Improve adoption:

Lowers the barrier of technology experts required for study set-up and improve adoption of technology

Comprehensive Services Include:

- Reviewing protocol documents, sponsor CRFs, and/or internal form specifications
- Creating a forms library customized to institutional and protocol requirements
- Designing source record forms along with edit checks and validation constraints
- Applying industry best practices for uniformity and standardized data collection
- Creating visit plans and associating forms with them
- Testing visit schedule and forms in the customer's instance